Course Overview:

This course offers a comprehensive exploration of the history of modern India, covering the period from the inception of British rule in India till its end in 1947. It examines the different historical processes that shaped the politico-economic and socio-cultural structures/aspects of life during the colonial period and helps in developing among the learners a comprehensive understanding of the functioning and impact of colonialism. How the British empire was reared and sustained and what were the different ways and methods through which the colonized responded to colonialism are critically analysed to broaden the historical perspective and imagination of the learners. Through well thought out tutorial and assignments an attempt is made to take the learners out of the classroom settings and collect history from the ground.
